A letter from the Pastor

Shalom First Baptist,

This week is Holy week, it is a time that we reflect on the significant events of the days leading up to the crucifixion and resurrection. For three years Jesus had been telling His disciples that He would be killed, buried and resurrected. Those men truly had no idea what Jesus was telling them. They knew He was the Messiah, but there was no room in Jewish thought of a crucified King. They were expecting Him to free them from Roman oppression, not die a martyr’s death. He had ridden into town on a donkey’s colt to the praise of His followers, but what happened next would be shocking. Jesus entered the temple and ran out all of those who were selling sacrificial animals. In the disciple’s eyes, something had changed dramatically—Jesus was cleaning house. On Wednesday He would stand in the temple in the presence of the Pharisees’ and pronounce damnation upon them (Matthew 23). On Thursday they would celebrate the Passover meal, but this meal was more shocking than Jesus clearing the temple. He had gotten up and done the work of a slave by washing the disciple’s feet. Then He told them He was going to die, His body would be broken and His blood spilled. The shock of Thursday turned into horror on Friday as they saw Him paraded from Jerusalem up to Golgotha and nailed to a cross between two criminals. The shouts to crucify Him echoed through their ears, and the thoughts that “maybe He wasn’t the Messiah” ran through their minds. Three years gone the moment He cried out, “it is finished,” and breathed His last. Here was the Messiah, dead, buried in a borrowed tomb, with military police standing guard over His grave. Why? How could this happen?

Pastor Matt
